

Privacy Statement

ActEd Australasia recognises that information you submit to us is of a personal and private nature. We take care to respect your privacy and to comply with the privacy legislation. All staff are required to comply with our privacy policy.

The information we collect about you is the information included on your application form and relates to your contact details and your order history. This information may be collected via the telephone, letter, fax, email or face to face, in our office.

Your information is kept in-confidence unless disclosure is required by law.

When you apply for course materials, we assume we have your consent to keep your details on our database for future use in informing about our updated materials. From time to time, we may distribute advertising material (by email) from actuarial employers who are seeking to fill vacant positions – please advise ActEd Australasia if you do not wish to receive these mail outs.

All personal data submitted to ActEd Australasia is protected within a secure electronic environment. Access to your information is restricted to our staff and we operate in a security building.

When you visit this website and read or download materials we will receive statistical information which will not be used to identify you personally.
